

Fenchurch advised Camellia on the sale of Duncan Lawrie Asset Management to Brewin Dolphin

Fenchurch is pleased to have advised Camellia Plc (“Camellia”) on the sale of Duncan Lawrie Asset Management (“DLAM”) to Brewin Dolphin for £28m.

DLAM is the wealth management subsidiary of Duncan Lawrie Private Banking, the private banking arm of Camellia, managing approximately £735m of assets on behalf of some 1,000 client relationships.

Tom Franks, Chief Executive Officer of Camellia, commented: “We were impressed by Fenchurch’s commitment to this engagement. Their deep sector relationships, intimate knowledge of the UK platform sector and first class M&A execution skills were important factors in successfully delivering this transaction.”

Date: December 2016

Transaction Value: £28m

Fenchurch advised:

CAMELLIA PLC

Counterparty:

BREWIN
DOLPHIN